MODERN ATTIRE IS DEFENDED BY PROF. G. H. TAPY

Girls Never Dressed More
Sensibly, Says Institute
Speaker

INDICTMENT OF YOUTH

Woman Has Come Into Her Own in The Last
Generation

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 16.—Bobbied hair and short skirts and other modern customs of millady's dress and attire were staunchly defended yesterday at the closing session of the seventy-fifth annual Bucks County Teachers' Institute by Dr. George H. Tapy, of Crawfordsville, Ind., professor of psychology and education in Wabash College.

"There must be a better reason than 'it's not right because grandmother didn't do it' to change my mind that girls today are wearing improper clothes," Dr. Tapy declared.

"In my latest opinion the girls never dressed more sensibly, more beautifully and in a more healthful fashion than they do today."

Youth is under indictment today on many counts, Dr. Tapy reminded his audience of 800 teachers and parents who crowded the court house for the closing session. Among the indictments the speaker mentioned jazz craze, no restraint in speech or conduct and numerous others.

"All the complaints, however, about young folks today are made by the old folks, do you notice?" Dr. Tapy asked. "Sixteen and sixty do not fight but they do not agree."

"The most difficult surgical operation in the world today is to inject a new idea into an old man. The mortality rate is very high in this operation."

"Youth can do so many things today that grandfather and grandmother could not do. The status of woman has changed just recently. Woman has come into her own only in the last generation."

"Man and woman are equal. Women now show in more than one way evidence they have two legs on which to stand."

"Youth has been born into a world that older folks have changed themselves. Social contacts today are much different than the used to be. Years ago the young folks traveled not over four miles to meet at a community hall or at the home of some friend for a social function. Today the automobile will carry them as far as 100 miles or more to take part in a party and they will be among strangers there and not friends as in yesteryear when the parents went with them."

"Youth is asking why it is wrong to do this and that nowadays?"

"Youth is entitled to the example of old age. There are liquor laws in America and there are young people who are violating the liquor laws, I know, but it is the parent in many instances who makes the liquor in his own cellar and violates the law."

Dr. Tapy said he has not time for the misinformed fault-finder who claims that college students are not religious because there are not as many young people going to church today as in former years.

"I have never yet heard of a college student who would poke fun at the Christian religion. What youth does not care for is the theology of mock of the middle ages. Churches too must keep step with the times. I speak myself as the elder of a Presbyterian Church and as a college teacher, know that youth wants religion that is enlightening and the truth."

Life as a Game

Captain T. Dinsmore Upton, of Chicago, former college football coach, in the last address of the Institute yesterday said that he desired to compliment Bucks county on still being progressive enough to invite the public to the Institute sessions and not to bar them as they are in many of the counties now.

He made a plea for teachers to be active in their organization and not "to become a corpse, for there are too many corpses to be found in any community today."

"Life is a great game, and not a battle," Captain Upton said. "I hate to hear the silly commencement orators tell the graduates they are finished with school and about to enter the great battle of life. That is bunk. Life is a game worth playing if you play it square."

Other highlights and terse remarks of Captain Upton's talk were as follows:

"Self pity is a terrible curse. I know some folks who actually like to be sick."

"The big danger in America today is the disintegration of the American home."

"I believe in creeds but not in the dogmas of creeds."

OPERATED UPON

Mrs. Christopher A. Johnson, of Tullytown, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Harriman Hospital.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR B. H. S. MUSICAL COMEDY

Rehearsals Progress Fast And Furiously for The Affair

TICKETS SELLING FAST

Rehearsals are progressing fast and furiously for the brand new musical comedy, "Page the Prince," to be given at the high school auditorium next Thursday and Friday nights, a benefit for the high school.

All those who have been fortunate enough to see parts of the rehearsals which are being held daily in the high school, declare that "Page the Prince" tops them all as the very peppiest and most brilliant amateur show that has been attempted here in many a moon. The cast of characters composed of all high school students is well chosen, and they have all proven their aptitude in their various roles.

Among the leading roles is Mildred Randall, who will appear in the character of "Ma Brocton," with social ambitions. "Pa Brocton," her husband, with a few odd millions, will be ably assisted by Marvin Collins. Their daughter, "Betty Brocton," the leading lady of the show, will be taken by Doris Johns, a very popular young high school miss with marked talent. "William J. Spurns," a comedy detective, who has a clew (sometimes), will be Joe Britton, while "Heinrich," who runs a cafe and has other troubles in another comedy role, is assumed by Rens Swan.

The two juvenile leads are "Edward," Prince of Gondolivia, and "Bob Benedict," his American college chum, to be impersonated by Howard Smoyer and Thomas Barrett, respectively. The part of "Al E. Oop," a soldier of fortune, and a most important comedy part of the show, with many entanglements devolved around him, will be lived as in reality by Arthur Reynolds. The "Princess Otille" of Gondolivia, who masquerades as a cabaret dancer in America, will be Roberta Pearson. This part allows Miss Pearson much opportunity to display very effectively her singing and dancing ability.

Other interesting roles are: "Count de Change," Prime Minister of Gondolivia (William Leigh); "Duke Smixture" (Joseph Ait), and "Sir Loinsteak" (Nelson Green), of Balkania; the "Princess Pearl," of Balkania (Anita Ninni); "Queen of Gondolivia" (Marjorie Fagan), and "Captain of the Royal Guards" (William Wiesner).

Many well known local students, both singers and dancers, will participate in the groups and musical choruses. These include cafe patrons, waiters, entertainers, cabaret dancers, villagers, peasants, jazz dancers, cadet guards, etc., in the Gondolivian scene. Tickets for the show are on sale now and may be bought from members of cast, choruses, teachers and all high school students. Seats are going quite rapidly. Buy your own seats now.

The gathering, which takes place at the Bucks County Country Club, at Langhorne, will be addressed by Mr. Grundy and Mr. McIlvain, as well as by Thomas B. Stockham, mayor of Morrisville, and president of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America. Hon. Clarence J. Buckman will preside.

COUNTY TEACHERS VOTE ON TYPE OF INSTITUTE

A Change is Advocated But General Session Is Urged

CAST BALLOTS FOR IT

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 15.—Teachers at the Bucks County Institute were given an opportunity Friday morning to vote for the type of Institute they want in the future.

Ballots were distributed and there was opportunity for a general discussion.

Those voting were given a wide range for expression. They could vote for any of the following alternatives:

General sessions, morning and afternoon.

Sections, morning and afternoon.

Sections in the morning and general session in the afternoon.

Part sectional and part general, morning and afternoon.

Evening sessions every evening.

Evening sessions first four nights.

Two or three evening sessions at the discretion of the County Superintendent.

One evening session only, to include a social gathering.

No evening sessions.

Superintendent Carmon Ross, of Doylestown, made a strong plea for modification and improvement, with a part sectional and part general institute. Speaking of the evening sessions he asked why teachers should vote to take from the general public something very worthwhile to the community in general, and was heartily applauded. He did, however, express criticism of the public for not more generously patronizing the institute from which it could benefit greatly, he said.

S. S. Utz, of Yardley, expressed the opinion that a wholly sectional institute would encourage a great many of the teachers to "bag" the sessions, a condition that is worse this year than ever, he said. He felt that teachers should be put on their honor to attend the sessions for which they were paid and which are for their benefit. A motion to that effect was carried.

Another teacher expressed the opinion that cutting out the evening sessions and making the institute completely sectional would not reduce the fees paid by the teachers. He favored increasing the fees and getting more instructors.

Superintendent Hoffman pointed out that teachers have been mistaken in thinking they paid the expense of the evening entertainment. He showed that of the $815 expenses last year the public paid $446.90, or 70 cents apiece for the teachers for all of the five nights. This year their expense so far has been 45 cents for the evening lectures.

The discussion was still in progress at a late hour.

Teachers from Perkaskie, Quakertown, Newtown and Morrisville contended that the day and evening sessions should be operated and financed separately.

Bristol M. E. Church

An increased interest in the loyalty month activities of the Methodist Episcopal Church was manifested last Sunday and again at the mid-week prayer meeting on Wednesday night. "Loyalty Month," says Rev. George F. Hess, pastor, "has been inaugurated into the program of this church for the purpose of challenging not only the membership of this church, but every individual of the community who names himself after the Name of Christ Jesus, our Saviour, to a larger devotion and a greater interest in the Church and especially church attendance, the importance of which is emphasized in the following words of Rev. Charles E. Jefferson: 'Laymen as a rule do not realize the importance of church attendance. If they did, they would not so often allow a cloud or a shower, or a wind, or a snowstorm, or a caller, or a newspaper, or a headache, or a fit of laziness to keep them at home. A minister deserted by his representative men dies. He dies by inches. No man can preach with sustained fire and hope, whose leading people show by their desultory attendance, a headache, or a fit of laziness to keep them the incidentals or electives of life. The minister is called to lead in the public service of worship and whether or not he can lead well depends in a large measure on the inspiration and encouragement of others.'"

At 10:30 a. m. tomorrow the pastor will speak on the subject, "Our Father's Religion."

At 2:15 p. m. Sunday School will be in charge of Superintendent Doron Green.

At 7:45 p. m. the Epworth League will continue its interesting and inviting sessions in charge of Mrs. Rila Hunter. Forty-one were present at the League meeting last Sunday evening. ## SCHOOL COUNSELLING IS THEME OF SPEAKER

Miss Marian Pierce, of Philadelphia, Addresses Members of Bristol Travel Club

TELLS OF THE WORK

"School Counselling" occupied the attention of members of the Bristol Travel Club here yesterday when Miss Marian Pierce, of Philadelphia, spoke upon "Civic Interests of the Child," and told of the work in which she is engaged and so much interested.

"A school counsellor is one who links up the school and the home," remarked Miss Pierce in explaining the work participated in by a counsellor of this type. "We try to find one who is familiar with school purposes and home purposes for this work, and the results are surprising."

The particular lines upon which the counsellor works were given as: Behavior, educational or vocational problems, health problems, home conditions, recreational problems. "These are a few of the reasons why children are referred to the counsellors in our schools, because they have caused trouble along the lines mentioned."

Miss Pierce told of how a room is furnished in an informal manner, for use of the counsellor. This room she remarked, is made to appear as informal as the school-room is formal. To be found there are cozy chairs, bright and attractive draperies, potted plants and attractive furnishings of every needed kind. When a misdeed on the part of one of the pupils is brought to the attention of the teacher or counsellor, or a child is backward in his or her studies, the counsellor, teacher, parent and pupil meet in this room, there to talk over the problem uppermost in the minds of all. Actual cases were cited by the speaker by which means it was shown that the pupils, boys and girls of all ages, are helped through this definite interest shown in his or her case.

The counsellor and teachers working with her give encouragement to pupils in all lines, advise gaining of interest in the Boy Scout or Junior Marine movement if the unruly one happens to be a boy, and in some cases where deemed necessary endeavor to change the pupil to another room in order that they might be tried out under the jurisdiction of another teacher.

One case in particular was told of by the speaker, who referred to a boy of 10 who had appeared to be unruly, and showed no interest in affairs of the school. The lad was encouraged in many ways by the teachers, he was led to take an interest in the Boy Scout movement, was appointed to a safety patrol and given special duties. In less than a year, through this special attention and advice, the boy qualified as a second class Scout, and in a remarkably short time became a leader of one of the Scout patrols. "In being given a chance to express his own sense of importance in a proper manner, he became a very desirable boy citizen. We are working to the end that the child may benefit and might be given opportunity to express himself."

Mrs. Ethel Kooker, who is connected with the book department of one of Philadelphia's department stores, was next introduced by Mrs. David O. Taylor, who was in charge of the program. Mrs. Kooker remarked as she took the floor that the book world forms a large subject, inasmuch as during November alone there were 4,000 new books.

The one speaking about books for children urged that the boys and girls

B. H. S. PLAYERS ARE DOWNED BY SPRINGFIELD XI

Locals Lose on Field Here In One-Sided Contest,
19 to 0

DEFENSE NOT SO GOOD

Many Interested Spectators
Watch Contest on H. S.
Field

A large crowd of students saw Springfield win its sixth straight victory by defeating the Bristol High School team, 19-0, yesterday at the high school field. The game seemed to be entirely one-sided, Bristol offering hardly any resistance at all. Both Bristol's and Springfield's defenses were not doing good work, although Springfield showed some superiority in the offense.

Bristol gained one first down in the first quarter. A touchdown by Turner, fullback, saved the quarter for Springfield. The next quarter was also saved for Springfield when Turner completed a pass which ended in a touchdown. Bristol gained three first downs and Springfield two in the third quarter. The last quarter Turner crashed the Bristol line and ran for a touchdown, leaving the Bristol boys gasping for their unsuccessful attempt to stop him.

At the beginning of the game Bristol kicked to Springfield's 39-yard line. Springfield made several gains by line plunges before Turner, Springfield's star fullback, received the ball, crashed through Bristol's timid line very easily and ran for a touchdown after skillfully evading Bristol's backfield men. Their attempt for the extra point failed. After the kickoff Pico and Tranotti gained a little yardage but not quite enough for a first down. Pat Moran then kicked to Springfield's forty-two yard line. In the next play Davis managed to get through the line and tackled the ball carrier five yards behind the line of scrimmage. Springfield unable to gain the necessary yardage for first down kicked to Bristol's forty three yard line. Tranotti carried the ball, giving Bristol their first down. Tranotti then tried to hurl a forward pass to one of his men but he retreated in front of the Springfield men, and failed to leave the pass. As a result he lost eleven yards for Bristol. Bristol then kicked to Springfield's 43-yard line, when the quarter ended.

Springfield gained nothing in the first few downs of the next quarter. The team kicked to Bristol's 43-yard line. A pretty pass was heaved to Dougherty in the next play, but the ball managed to slip through his fingers to the ground. Springfield could not gain any yardage and kicked to Bristol's 21-yard line. Bristol was also unsuccessful in its attempts and kicked to the Springfield fullback, who ran to his own 44-yard line before he was downed. Dougherty made a pretty tackle which netted a seven-yard loss for Springfield. Turner then kicked a forward which ended in another touchdown for the visiting team. Springfield kicked and Dries carried the ball to the 45-yard line when he was tackled. That ended the first half.

Bristol kicked off in the second half. Springfield succeeded in gaining a first down by center plunges. Turner made an 8-yard run through the line. Springfield carried the ball for another first down, but then Bristol stopped them and forced them to kick to Bristol on their 30-yard line. After a change in the backfield Bristol was gaining yardage after yardage. Lafferty received, and carried the ball for a 6-yard gain. That gave Bristol its first down. Another first down was obtained when Dougherty caught a short pass heaved by Tranotti. In the next play Springfield got possession of the ball when Tranotti fumbled. The third quarter ended after the play. Springfield's ball on their own 34-yard line. Turner again received the ball and ran through the center of the line with some minor hindrance and made a run for the goal line. Dougherty dived at him when near the goal but the runner was out of his reach and had crossed the line. After the kickoff Bristol opened its aerial attack. Dougherty caught a short pass. The next two were incomplete, and Bristol was penalized five yards. Lafferty received another forward which gave the ball to Bristol for first down. The next forward was caught by a

JAIL FOR DRUG ADDICTS

Medical men persist in asking the federal government what moral and humane right it has to throw into prison for long periods drug addicts of both sexes, who in the final analysis are victims of a vicious habit and not criminals. Legally, under the Harrison Act, the government is within its rights, but the doctors are not concerned with the legal aspect of the situation.

Those who traffic in narcotic drugs are unconscionable criminals who should be dealt with accordingly. They are enemies of society, thriving upon the weaknesses and the deadliest appetite of man. Moreover, the dope they sell makes criminals and promotes crime.

A distinction must be made between the seller and the addict. The latter is the victim of an insidious habit and should be treated, not as a lawbreaker, but as a sick person. His need is for medical treatment, not imprisonment and punishment. Making jail-birds of these unfortunates amounts to throwing them into that environment and society from which most drug users come.

Perhaps few drug addicts ever are completely cured, but it is certain that none ever found the cure in a jail cell. And it is a question whether the threat of imprisonment acts as an effective deterrent. The first dose is not taken for the purpose of addiction and the addict stops at nothing to feed his appetite.

It is not difficult to explain why legislation against this evil is so often drastic and harsh. It is usually the product of public hysteria and morbid fear. It is difficult to obtain a rational view of an institution which is associated in the public mind with all that is exotic, diabolical and terrible.

DE GRASSE

Lafayette and Rochambeau are names which American school children are less likely to forget than that of De Grasse. Yet to the admiral of the West Indies fleet of the French was due the greater share of the victory over Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown. General Washington testified to this very fact, and the plain story of the closing of Cornwallis' sea-gate bears out the praise. DeGrasse takes his place with the founders of this republic.

It is true that Rochambeau saw the whole play of tactics in advance; how Cornwallis, though lured to Yorktown by Washington, was safe while the British fleet remained in the roads, and how brilliant a stroke it would be if the French sea force could be brought off the Virginia capes. But DeGrasse was a fleet commander; there were no telegraphs to Versailles; and the responsibility for the decision of leaving the West Indies unprotected rested solely with him. He took the chance, beat the British, drew them off to New York harbor and left Cornwallis without a sea-gate. Bottled up in Yorktown, the British general had no course but to surrender.

The British did not forget what DeGrasse had done, and he was finally subjected to defeat at St. Kitts and then to capture. Only a year ago his heart was buried at the French chateau to which he retired after closing his naval career.

His name shines high on the roll of America's Foreign Legion with his fellow-countrymen, with Pulaski and von Steuben.

Modernization May Be Started at Any Time

MODERNIZING NOT CONFINED TO THE TIME OF THE YEAR

IS CONSIDERED AN ALL-YEAR-'ROUND MOVEMENT

The principles of the home modernizing movement are applicable to any out of date house, no matter what may be the time of the year. Modernization is possible during any season.

Many home owners who hesitate to improve their homes are laboring under the impression that season has something to do with the movement. Under certain conditions the time of the year enters into the calculations of the builders, but as a movement there is neither winter or summer. You can start to modernize at any time.

What's Wrong With the Old House?

One of the first steps in modernizing is to discover what is wrong with the home. Every house that was built five years or more is behind the times in some respect. Something needs to be replaced or some new improvement has been presented to the public that will add to the comfort and convenience of the household.

And as for the old house that was built back in the days of the World's Fair, when a horseless carriage was a real sight, a great many improvements may be made. Usually the lines of the house are out of date. Modern architecture has developed a new design with a distinct feeling of considerable variance with the old times. Gingerbread trimming and obsolete ornamentation is distinctly out. Modern homes of good taste have simple lines, they have comfort and beauty. Often the older houses had neither.

If your house is one of those of the nineties, you will want to remodel the exterior. You can take away its bolt, upright lines by some simple device, as adding a sun parlor with a roof that sweeps out from the original roofing. The gingerbread ornaments may be removed and plain trim substituted.

The high, narrow windows are eliminated in favor of window units grouped two or three to an opening, as this practice gives more day lighting to the interior and also aids the ventilation.

The window trim in use nowadays is simple. It is often painted a contrasting color to the main body of the dwelling, for this brings out the architectural lines of the structure.

Before you start to remodel take a number of kodak pictures of the house as it originally stands. Study these views to see what improvements you can make. Consult also with the local dealers and contractors. They have had experience in remodeling and know what to do to improve the old lines.

Modernize the Interior

Your remodeling plans may call for changes in the interior arrangement. Now is the time to study the room layouts to see if shifting a wall or partition will add to the convenience of the dwelling.

Often another closet may be added to the interior. Closets are much in demand by the average housewife, and somehow or other there are never too many of them. More than one house has been rented because it had plenty of closet room.

Home Accessories Add to Comfort

The broad statement that no home is complete as far as accessories is concerned will doubtless apply to your dwelling. As you go over your modernizing plans list down the number of accessories that would be an aid in making the home a better place to live in. You will find the number imposing.

Chief among these are electrical outlets. The average home can always use another outlet, for several bridge lamps are being used in many rooms. Every clothes closet needs a light.

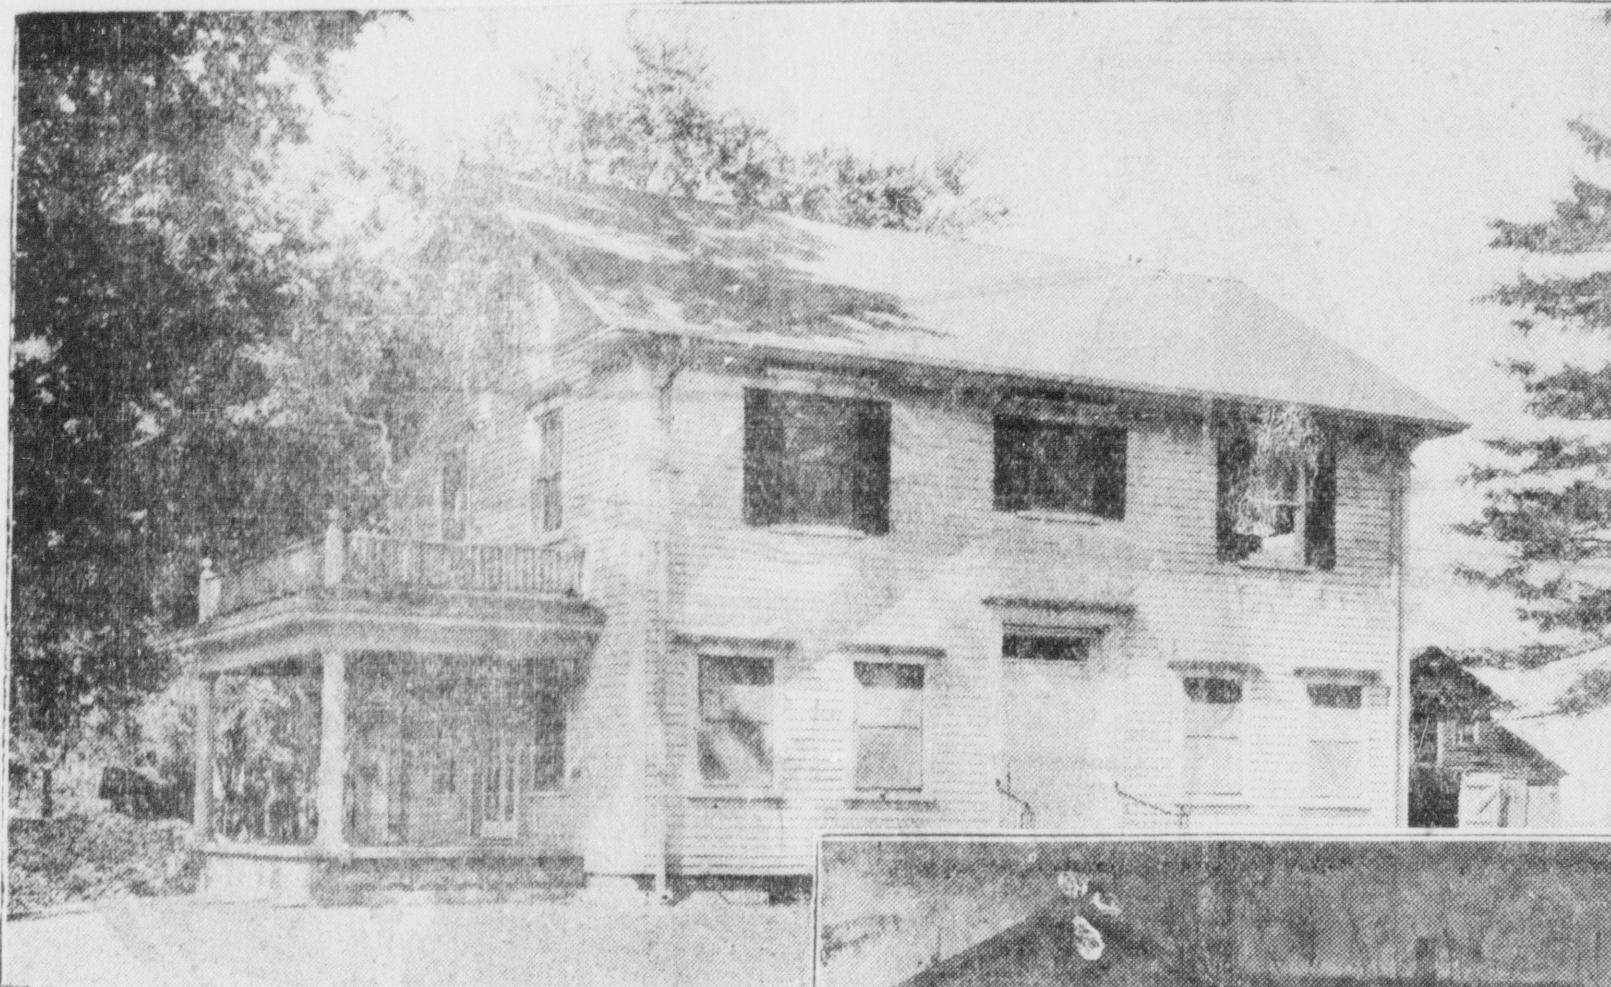

Your heating plant may not be doing its full duty. This may be due to the construction of the house. Insulating may be lacking, or your windows may be warped and shrunken. Since fuel bills depend on these factors, while modernizing look into this condition.

Place hardwood floors on each room of the house that is in active service. The cost is not excessive, and the convenience far offsets the additional expense. Concrete the basement floor if it has not already been done. Landscape the surrounding lot for this simple improvement often adds considerably to the sales value of the property.

Start Now

Your plans can be started at any time. It isn't necessary to wait for a certain month or season to start to plan. And many of the improvements can be worked out at any time during the year.

Home of Horse-and-Buggy Days Now Modernized

This clean cut, modern home was built back in the days when leg of mutton sleeves were the style among the ladies. Note the old homestead in the view to the right. The dwelling when modernized is pictured above.

Colorful Rugs Aid Decorative Design

Color is the keynote of home decorating. Through its use the one is being transformed from a drab, dreary place into lively, charming, distinctive living rooms. The old air of formality and somberness is giving way to a new spirit of cheerfulness and friendliness. Now each room expresses the individuality of its owner plus a joyous and sympathetic appreciation of color and color harmony.

Floor coverings add considerably to the effect. Rugs of oriental design create a warmth that reflects itself throughout the room. They strike the keynote that sets the interior decorative design.

The most prized floor coverings are the colorful rugs from the orient. Whether Chinese or Persian, the acquisition of one rug is generally followed by the purchase of others. Rug collecting is the pleasure of many home owners who show with pride the artistic weaving and lasting colors that are found only in these types of rugs.

Use the rug as the starting point in your interior decorations. Let the furniture upholstery reflect the tints that are chief in the rugs.

HOUSE SEVERAL DECADES OLD IS NOW UP-TO-DATE

The picture below is good evidence that houses built several decades ago can be modernized successfully. Cast your eyes at this picture and see for yourself the costumes on the group in the foreground. The leg of mutton sleeves and basques of the ladies and the old horse and buggy in the middle ground speak of by-gone days.

The homestead appears as it was years ago. In those days it was a substantial, well-built house, painted at regular intervals and receiving proper care.

But with the passing of time, it grew old. New conveniences were introduced to the people and generally accepted by them. These comforts were denied the occupants of the old house for somehow or other they never got around to installing them.

Now Modernized

Today the old homestead has been modernized. It is now one of the up-to-date homes of the country side. The good substantial old lines have been slightly changed, a side porch of Colonial motif has been added, and a wide front porch now graces one end of the main structure.

frequently is the reason why a property owner is under-insured. While he has been waiting for a chance to order the additional insurance he required, fire has destroyed his property. ## ST. ANN'S DETERMINED TO WIN GAME TOMORROW

(By T. M. June)

With three straight victories to its credit, the Bristol St. Ann's eleven are determined to keep this record intact tomorrow when it faces the strong Kirlin Catholic Club, of Philadelphia. The game will be played on Sullivan's field and is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m.

The "Saints" opened their season with a 7-7 tie with the Richmond Wildcats. They followed with a 6-0 victory over the Venango Bears. St. Monica captured a 7-6 win from the locals who then braced up and defeated Warrenton, Daytonia, and St. Cecilia with 31-0, 27-7, and 13-0 scores, respectively. Tomorrow's game will about decide whether the record will continue or be broken.

The Bristol eleven received a hard blow when it was announced that Gilardi, one of the best wingmen in this section, will be unavailable for duty. "Shine," as the end is known, injured his shoulder in the St. Cecilia fray and though he refused to leave the game at the time, the injury was found to be more serious than expected. Stalene will probably occupy the injured player's position.

Kirlin has appeared here before against Bristol A. A. and always gave a fine exhibition of football. The visitors usually have a large following and a great cheering contest will be seen when the Bristol "razzers" get on the field.
